Let's go over each of those. Carpenters team guide for Warrior's As Dimension in Soda Dungeon 2. There are many variations of Carpenters team for Warrior's As Dimension and you will have to adjust your team for your current stage, relics and gear. Soon after you will arrive at Warrior's As Size, you can't go with the same team you used for your progression. Size: Thief, Carpenter, Mystic, Nurse, Carpenter, Dark Lord, Early Warriors Dimension, Carpenter Team. A lot of flexibility on this team. This is because they miss the single target damage by default and need sufficient damage to oneshot all enemies before your turn ends and enemies will have a chance. They are also really dependent on the gear, so you will not be able to push easily from the beginning if you decide to go with it. Although the bushes will hurt a lot and you will have to recover from that using the nurse or fairies. With this team you have a support point that you can use for the nurse, Dark Lord, Hunter or whoever you want, which allows flexibility additional. Gear for the Carpenters team in Warrior's As Dimension for the gear, based on the team you will use. You will need to customize the layout. The main idea is that you want to maximize the Carpenter's As's give output, then on the first stages the high-attack gear and star gems will be good. Conclusion: Warrior's As Dimension brings a new plan to the gameplay of Soda Dungeon 2. Most likely you will need to grind a little to get your attack, mana and magic damage up. Your basic team will be similar to this: Thief, Dark Mage, Mystic, Dark Nurse, Dark Mage, Dark Lord, Basic Dark Mage Team for early Warrior's As Dimension in Soda Dungeon 2. Mystic, Sar, more or less necessary for your mana regen, since your DMs will consume a Mana. Starting the race to LVL 1 and going the farther possible will lead those closer class relics.
